The following are the current risk factors as perceived by the management of the Company. This list is not intended to be exhaustive in nature and is merely intended to highlight certain risks that are associated with investing in Securities:

- (i) Risks arising from the Securities/Portfolio:
- Equity risk: It is the financial risk involved in holding equity in a particular investment. Equity risk often refers to equity in companies through the purchase of stocks and does not commonly refer to the risk in paying into real estate or building equity in properties.
 - Equity and equity related securities by nature are volatile and prone to price fluctuations on a daily basis due to both macro and micro factors.
 - In domestic markets, there may be risks associated with trading volumes, settlement periods and transfer procedures that may restrict liquidity of investments in equity and equity related securities. In the event of inordinately low volumes, there may be delays with respect to unwinding the Portfolio and transferring the redemption proceeds.
 - The value of the Client Portfolio, may be affected generally by factors affecting securities markets, such as price and volume volatility in the capital markets, interest rates, currency exchange rates, changes in policies of the government, taxation laws or policies of any appropriate authority and other political and economic developments and closure of stock exchanges which may have an adverse bearing on individual securities, a specific sector or all sectors including equity and debt markets. Consequently, the Portfolio valuation may fluctuate and can go up or down.
 - Client may note that Portfolio Manager's investment decisions may not always be profitable, as actual market movements may be at variance with anticipated trends.
 - Credit Risk: Credit risk or default risk refers to the risk which may arise due to default on the part of the issuer of the fixed income security (i.e. risk that the issuer will be unable to make timely principal and interest payments on the security). Due to this risk, debentures are sold at a yield spread above those offered on treasury securities, which are sovereign obligations and generally considered to be free of credit risk. Normally, the value of a fixed income security will fluctuate depending upon the actual changes in the perceived level of credit risk as well as the actual event of default.
 - Systematic Risk: Systematic risk refers to the risk inherent to the entire market or market segment. Systematic risk, also known as "undiversifiable risk," "volatility" or "market risk", affects the overall market, not just a particular stock or industry. This type of risk is both unpredictable and impossible to completely avoid. It cannot be mitigated through diversification, but only through hedging or by using the correct asset allocation.

- Concentration risk: Concentration Risk is the potential for a loss in value of an investment portfolio or a financial institution when an individual or group of exposures move together in an unfavourable direction. The implication of concentration risk is that it generates such a significant loss that recovery is unlikely. The portfolio will be liquidated, or the institution will face bankruptcy.
- Execution Risk: The risk that a transaction won't be executed within the range of recent market prices or within the stop order limits that have been set. Execution risk exists on virtually all financial instruments.
- Market Risk: The NAV of the investments made by the Investor will react to interest rate movements. The Investor may lose money over short or long period due to fluctuation in NAV in response to factors such as economic and political developments, changes in interest rates, inflation, and other monetary factors and also movement in prices of underlining investments.
- Interest Rate Risk: Changes in interest rates will affect the NAV. The prices of securities usually increase as interest rates decline and usually decrease as interest rates rise. The extent of fall or rise in the prices is guided by modified duration, which is a function of the existing coupon, days to maturity and increase or decrease in the level of interest rate. The new level of interest rate is determined by the rate at which the government raises new money and/or the price levels at which the market is already dealing in existing securities. Prices of long-term securities generally fluctuate more in response to interest rate changes than short-term securities. The price risk is low in the case of the floating rate or inflation-linked bonds. The price risk does not exist if the investment is made under a repo agreement. Debt markets, especially in developing markets like India, can be volatile leading to the possibility of price movements up or down in fixed income securities and thereby to possible movements in the NAV. Modified Duration is a measure of price sensitivity, the change in the value of investment to a 1% change in the yield of the investment.
- Pre-payment Risk: Certain fixed income securities give an issuer the right to call back its securities before their maturity date, in periods of declining interest rates. The possibility of such prepayment may force the fund to reinvest the proceeds of such investments in securities offering lower yields, resulting in lower interest income for the fund.
- Spread Risk: In a floating rate security, the coupon is expressed in terms of a spread or mark up over the benchmark rate. In the life of the security this spread may move adversely leading to loss in value of the portfolio. The yield of the underlying benchmark might not change, but the spread of the security over the underlying benchmark might increase leading to loss in value of the security.
- Liquidity or Marketability Risk: This refers to the ease at which a security can be sold at or near its true value. The primary measure of liquidity risk is the spread between the bid price and the offer price quoted by a dealer. Liquidity risk is characteristic of the Indian fixed income market. Trading Volumes, settlement periods and transfer procedures may restrict the liquidity of the investments made in Securities. Different segments of the Indian financial markets have different settlement periods, and such period may be extended significantly by unforeseen circumstances leading to delays in receipt of proceeds from sale of securities. As liquidity of the investments made by the Company could, at times, be restricted by trading volumes and settlement periods, the time taken by the Company for redemption of units may be significant in the event of an inordinately large number of redemption requests.
- Reinvestment Risk: Investments in fixed income securities may carry reinvestment risk as interest rates prevailing on the interest or maturity due dates may differ from the original coupon of the bond. Consequently, the proceeds may get invested at a lower rate.
- Rating Risk: Different types of debt securities in which the Client invests, may carry different levels and types of risk. Accordingly, the risk may increase or decrease depending upon its investment pattern, for instance corporate bonds carry a higher amount of risk than government securities. Further even among corporate bonds, bonds, which are AA rated, are comparatively riskier than bonds, which are AAA rated.
- Price Volatility Risk: Debt securities may also be subject to price volatility due to factors such as changes in interest rates, general level of market liquidity and market perception of the creditworthiness of the issuer, among others (market risk). The market for these Securities may be less liquid than that for other higher rated or more widely followed Securities.

- (ii) Risks associated with investment in equity instruments using quantitative analysis/ quant model: Equity instruments by nature are volatile and prone to price fluctuations on a daily basis due to both macro and micro factors. Some of the risks attached with quantitative analysis are: (i) Market risk: like any other equity investments, these are subject to market risk. (ii) Modelling error: Quant models are subject to price and volume inputs. It is possible that some of these inputs are entered incorrectly either by in-house staff or third-party data providers whose data platforms are used by the Company. The quant model selected by the Company may not perform as tested; such a scenario is entirely possible and would result in a loss (iii) deviation from theoretical model: A quant model is theoretical in nature, however at times the market may act unexpectedly resulting in a loss, the quant model cannot account for any such market behaviour. The quant model may initiate a sell signal; however, the stock may not have adequate liquidity at that moment forcing the Company to further drive down the stock price. Client may note that the Portfolio Manager's investment decisions may not always be profitable, as actual market movements may be at variance with anticipated trends.
- (iii) Investment in equities, derivatives and mutual funds and exchange traded index funds are subject to market risks and there is no assurance or guarantee that the objective of investments will be achieved or that the Securities/Portfolio will yield the desired results. The risk associated with the use of derivatives are different from or possible greater than, the risk associated with investing directly in securities and other traditional investments. The names of the investment do not in any manner indicate their prospects or returns. The Company does not assure that the investment objective will be achieved, and Clients are not being offered any guaranteed returns. The investments may not be suitable for all investors.
- (iv) As with any investment in Securities, the Net Asset Value of the Portfolio can go up or down depending upon the factors and forces affecting the capital markets.

- (v) The performance of the Portfolio may be affected by changes in Government policies, general levels of interest rates and risks associated with trading volumes, liquidity and settlement systems in equity and debt markets.
- (vi) The Company has been recently established and has no previous track record in undertaking the Services. The past performance of the Company does not indicate its future performance. No guaranteed returns are assured or offered by the Company.
- (vii) The performance of the Portfolio of the Client may be adversely affected by the performance of individual Securities, changes in the marketplace and industry specific and macro-economic factors. The investment approaches are given different names for convenience purpose and the names of the approaches do not in any manner indicate their prospects or returns.
- (viii) Investments in debt instruments and other fixed income Securities are subject to default risk, liquidity risk and interest rate risk. Interest rate risk results from changes in demand and supply for money and other macroeconomic factors and creates price changes in the value of the debt instruments. Consequently, the Net Asset Value of the Portfolio may be subject to fluctuation.
- (ix) Investments in debt instruments are subject to reinvestment risks as interest rates prevailing on interest amount or maturity due dates may differ from the original coupon of the bond, which might result in the proceeds being invested at a lower rate.
- (x) There are inherent risks arising out of investment objectives, Securities/Portfolio, asset allocation and non-diversification of Portfolio. When investments are restricted to a particular/few sector(s), there arises a risk called non-diversification or concentration risk. If these sector(s), for any reason, fail to perform, the Portfolio value may be adversely affected.
- (xi) Risk factors associated with derivatives: Derivative products are leveraged instruments and can provide disproportionate gains as well as disproportionate losses to the Investor. Derivative products are specialized instruments that require investment techniques and risk analyses different from those associated with stocks and bonds. The use of a derivative requires an understanding not only of the underlying instrument but of the derivative itself.
- (xii) The risks of investing in equity instruments include share price falls, receiving no dividends or receiving dividends lower in value than expected. They also include the risk that a company restructure may make it less profitable.
- (xiii) Equity instruments face market volatility risk: Stock market tends to be very volatile in the short term. Even if fundamentals of the underlying companies do not materially change in the short term, volatility in the broader stock market can result in volatility in share prices of stocks forming part of the Client's Portfolio.
- (xiv) Equity instruments face fundamental risk: If fundamentals of the companies chosen by the Company deteriorate over time, there is no guarantee or assurance that the Company's analysts and fund managers will be able to identify such deterioration in fundamentals and take appropriate action in a timely manner which could lead to higher volatility and a lower return from the Portfolio companies.
- (xv) Equity instruments face macro-economic and geo-political risks. Sudden changes to the macro-economic and geo-political environment within which Company's companies operate, could lead to increase in volatility of share prices of these companies.
- (xvi) Suitability and risk profile mismatch risk: This risk occurs when an investor chooses investments that are not suitable for their circumstance and risk tolerance. Investors experience mismatch risk when transactions in which they engage or Assets they hold are not aligned with their needs. Mismatch between investment type and investment horizon can be a source of mismatch risk. For example, mismatch risk would exist in a situation where an investor with a short investment horizon (such as one who is near retirement) invests heavily in small cap funds. Typically, investors with short investment horizons should focus on less volatile investments. Investors who are seeking capital preservation, steady income, medium liquidity, low volatility, and high level of customization in their fixed income allocations. Provided investor risk tolerance is low to moderate.
- (xvii) The Company is part of a large international financial group, that acts simultaneously for a large number of clients, as well as for its own account. Accordingly, conflicts of interest cannot be completely avoided. Accordingly, the Client is hereby informed that there may be transactions of the Company and/or its group entities and/or its employees directly involved in investment operations which may have conflict of interest with the transactions in any of the Client's Portfolio and/or there may be conflict of interest related to services offered by group companies, if any, of the Company. All such transactions where there exists a conflict of interest would be disclosed by the Company to the Client. As on date of the signing of the Disclosure Document, there are no such transactions that are needed to be disclosed.
- (xviii) The Company is also involved in the managing and advising the alternative investment funds and is also providing services as a portfolio manager. The conflict of interest may arise in this scenario subject to the Company managing diverse client objectives under distinct regulatory frameworks, which may result in potential biases in investment decisions. The Company may also be exposed to regulatory compliance risks, as each line of business is governed by separate regulatory requirements, necessitating stringent adherence to Applicable Laws and regulations. The Company will ensure that the each of the activities will be ring-fenced will proper segregation of its operations.
- (xix) The Company and/or its key personnel may have its own investments in listed/unlisted Securities including investment in offshore products being advised to the Clients.

- (xx) Investments in Securities / Investment Products are subject to market and other risks and there can be no assurance or guarantee against loss resulting from an investment; nor can there be any assurance that the investment objectives will be achieved.
- (xxi) The past performance of the Company would not indicate the future performance. - (xxiv) Risk arising out of non-diversification: The Services are subject to risk arising out of non-diversification as the Securities or Investment Products could result into concentration on a specific asset/asset class/sector/issuer etc., which could expose the Portfolio to improper and/or undesired diversification.
- (xxv) As with any investment advise to invest in the securities/financial products, the value of the Client's portfolio can go up or down depending on various factors that may affect the values of such investments. In addition to the factors that affect the value of individual securities/financial products, the value of the Client's portfolio can be expected to fluctuate with movements in the broader equity markets and may be influenced by factors affecting capital markets in general, such as, but not limited to, changes in interest rates, currency exchange rates, changes in governmental policies, taxation, political, economic or other developments and increased volatility in the stock and bond markets.
- (xxvi) Clients may note that Company's Investment Advice on specific securities/financial products may not be always profitable, as actual market movements may be at variance with anticipated trends.
- (xxvii) Identification of appropriate investments: The success of the as a whole depends on the identification and availability of suitable investment opportunities and terms. Investment objective: The investment objective of this approach is to generate a balance of capital appreciation along with income such as interest, dividend etc. as may be applicable to each investment. Further, the investment objective would be to achieve this in the long term through investments in investment opportunities that are a combination of equity, fixed income and alternate asset classes to achieve desired asset allocation for the portfolio.

Description of types of securities e.g. equity or debt, listed or unlisted, convertible instruments, etc.

Under this approach, the Portfolio Manager would primarily invest in equity oriented mutual fund schemes, listed securities including but not limited to equity, preference, participating, non-participating, voting and/or non-voting shares, in warrants, options, equity linked instruments, bonds, debentures, government securities, derivative instruments, units of alternate investment funds and/or other permissible securities/products in accordance with the Applicable Laws.

Basis of selection of such types of securities as part of the investment approach

- Discipline approach to asset allocation per the Investment Approach.
- Investment in equity and equity oriented instruments like listed stocks, mutual funds, ETFs, options etc. Fixed income instruments like bonds, debentures, mutual funds, ETFs also form a part of the universe of investment for the Portfolio Manager. Both open ended and closed ended funds will be considered which include equity, fixed income, hybrid, thematic, index, ETF, arbitrage, offshore scheme/ETF and gold schemes and any other categories that may emerge over time. The portfolio may also consider investments in InvITs/REITs, bonds/debentures based on the prevailing market conditions and keeping the investor's interests in mind to enhance relative risk adjusted performances.
- For any other asset class: instrument specific characteristics may be considered. For example: for parameters like correlation with different asset classes, sensitivity to macroeconomic fluctuations, return trajectory etc. may be considered.

Allocation of portfolio across types of securities –

Particulars	Allocation
Equity and Equity Related Instruments: Listed Stocks/Open Ended Equity oriented mutual funds including ETF / Index / Equity Hybrid funds/ Global Equity Funds, etc.	0 to 100%

Appropriate benchmark to compare performance and basis for choice of benchmark:

Nifty Index

Indicative tenure or investment horizon

Recommended time horizon for effective portfolio returns as envisaged by the portfolio manager is minimum 3 (three) years.

Risks associated with the investment approach

Below are select risks associated with the investment approach apart from those disclosed in Clause 6 of this Document. The risks may affect portfolio performance even though the Portfolio Manager may take measures to mitigate the same.

Risk majorly related to equity and equity related Securities, interest rate risks and credit risks associated with fixed income securities. This Investment Approach will be suitable for investors with moderate risk appetite.

- The portfolio performance is subject to market risks and may lead to loss of capital during the tenure of the Portfolio. Investors with an ability to take such risk shall be suitable for this investment approach.
- The Portfolio may also be impacted by the interest rate movement, credit risks and liquidity risks, however, to the extent of the debt fund exposure in the Portfolio.
- Investments in mutual funds are subject to market risk and there is no assurance or guarantee of the objectives of the Portfolio Investment approach being achieved.
- The investment returns from the investment approach may be a function of mutual fund scheme selection and portfolio actions as well as market conditions during the investment tenor of the portfolio Investment approach.
- Past performance does not indicate the future performance of the investment approach.
- Investors must keep in mind that the aforementioned statements/presentation cannot disclose all the risks and characteristics. The Investors are requested to take into consideration all the risk factors including their financial condition, suitability to risk return profile and the likes and take professional advice before investing.
- There could be situations that the investment approach may not match the underlying benchmark. The Investors should note that the risk factors of the underlying mutual fund schemes and other instruments where the portfolio manager will invest shall be applicable.
- Allocation to cash/fixed income mutual funds would range between 40-60%. Hence, in periods of runaway equity returns and high equity valuations, this investment approach may lag equity returns.
- In a downward trending market, low allocation to debt may impact performance versus benchmark.

It is the responsibility of all prospective clients to inform themselves as to any income tax or other tax consequences arising in the jurisdictions in which they are resident or domiciled or have any other presence for tax purposes, which are relevant to their particular circumstances in connection with the acquisition, holding or disposal of the units. The Portfolio Manager accepts no responsibility for any loss suffered by any client as a result of current taxation law and practice or any changes thereto. Clients should not treat the contents of this section of the Disclosure Document as advice relating to legal, taxation, investment or any other matter. In view of nature of the tax benefits, interpretation of circulars for distinguishing between capital asset and trading asset, etc., the client is advised to best consult their own tax consultant, with respect to specific tax implications arising out of their portfolio managed by the Portfolio Manager.

The following summary is based on the law and practice of the Income-tax Act, 1961 (the "IT Act"), the Income-tax Rules, 1962 (the "IT Rules") and various circulars and notifications issued thereunder from time to time. The IT Act is amended every year by the Finance Act of the relevant year, and this summary reflects the amendments enacted in the Finance Act, 2020 and the Taxation and Other Laws (Relaxation and Amendment of Certain Provisions) Act, 2020.

The Tax Rates for different entities for the Financial Year 24-25 (Assessment Year 2025-26) are as follows. The tax provisions mentioned below are prior to budgetary changes of 23rd July 2024. You are required to consult your tax advisor for calculation of taxes:

Taxation for Non-Resident Investors

Section 115A to 115AD prescribes tax rates for various types of investment income of different NonResident Entities. However, if the non-resident is covered by a particular DTAA, he may apply the rates prescribed under that DTAA, if beneficial, without considering any surcharge and education cess

A non-resident investor would be subject to taxation in India only if:

- it is regarded a tax resident of India; or
- being a non-resident in India, it derives (a) Indian-sourced income; or (b) if any income is received / deemed to be received in India; or (c) if any income has accrued / deemed to have accrued in India in terms of the provisions of the IT Act

Section 6 of the IT Act was amended by the Finance Act, 2015 to provide that a foreign company should be treated as a tax resident in India if its place of effective management ("POEM") is in India in that year. The Finance Act, 2016 provided that the said amended provisions are effective from April 1, 2017. POEM has been defined to mean a place where key management and commercial decisions that are necessary for the conduct of the business of an entity as a whole are, in substance made.

The CBDT had vide its circular dated January 24, 2017 issued guiding principles for determination of POEM of a company ("POEM Guidelines"). The POEM Guidelines lays down emphasis on POEM concept being 'substance over form' and further provides that place where the management decisions are taken would be more important than the place where the decisions are implemented for determining POEM. The CBDT had vide circular dated February 23, 2017, clarified that provisions of Sec 6(3) (ii) relating to POEM would not apply to companies having turnover or gross receipts less than Rs 500 million during the Financial Year.

Tax Residency Certificate (TRC)

Section 90(4) of the IT Act provides that in order to claim Tax Treaty benefits, the offshore investor has to obtain a TRC as issued by the foreign tax authorities. Further, the offshore investor should be required to furnish such other information or document as prescribed. In this connection, the CBDT vide its notification dated August 1, 2013 amended Rule 21AB of the IT Rules prescribing certain information in Form No 10F to be produced along with the TRC, if the same does not form part of the TRC.

The details required to be furnished are as follows:

- Status (individual, company, firm, etc.) of the assessee;
- Nationality (in case of an individual) or country or specified territory of incorporation or registration (in case of others);
- Assessee's tax identification number in the country or specified territory of residence and in case there is no such number, then, a unique number on the basis of which the person is identified by the Government of the country or the specified territory of which the assessee claims to be a resident;
- Period for which the residential status, as mentioned in the TRC, is applicable; and
- Address of the assessee in the country or specified territory outside India, during the period for which the certificate is applicable

The additional information prescribed above may not be required to be provided if it already forms a part of the TRC.

The taxability of income of the offshore investor, in the absence of Tax Treaty benefits or from a country with which India has no Tax Treaty, would be as per the provisions of IT Act as discussed below:

Dividend Income:

Before April 1, 2020, Indian companies were required to pay Dividend Distribution Tax at an effective rate of 20.56 percent on dividends declared and distributed by them. Consequently, the dividend was exempt in the hands of the shareholder—residents as well as non-residents. From a compliance perspective, the government was able to collect dividend tax from one source i.e. companies and even for companies it was not a compliance burden at all.

However, Indian Finance Act 2020 has abolished Dividend Distribution Tax and, with effect from April 1, 2020, dividends declared by Indian companies would be taxable in the hands of shareholders. For nonresident shareholders—foreign shareholders, portfolio and institutional investors and even individuals (including NRIs)—the said dividend would be taxable in India either at the rates prescribed under the Indian tax laws or relevant tax treaties, whichever is beneficial to the taxpayer.

As per the current law, a tax rate of 20 percent (plus applicable surcharge and cess) is provided under the Indian local laws for dividends paid to non-residents or foreign companies. However, the tax treaties provide for lower rates, depending on the shareholding percentage and country of the investor.

The Indian Companies declaring dividend would be required to deduct tax at rates in force (in case of payment to non-resident).

Further, it is inserted that the taxpayer can claim a deduction of interest expenditure under section 57 of the IT Act if such income is offered to tax under the head 'income from Other sources' against such dividend income upto 20% of the dividend income

Section 80M was introduced by the Finance Bill, 2020. As per Section 80M, in case any Indian company receives dividend from another Indian company and the dividend is distributed by the first mentioned Indian company before the specific due date (i.e. one month prior to the date of filing tax return under section 139 of the IT Act), then deduction can be claimed by such Indian company of so much of dividend received from such another Indian company

Accordingly, as per the amended provisions, the dividend income (net of deductions, if any) will be taxable at the rates mentioned above.

Interest Income:

Interest income would be subject to tax at the rate of 40% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) for beneficiaries who are non-resident companies. For beneficiaries being non-resident firms / company, interest income would be subject to tax at the rate of 30% (plus applicable surcharge and cess). For other non-resident beneficiaries, interest income would be subject to tax at the rate of 30% (plus applicable surcharge and cess). The above rates would be subject to availability of Tax Treaty benefits, if any.

Non-resident Indian ("NRI") Investors are entitled to be governed by the special tax provisions under Chapter XII-A of the IT Act and if the NRI investors opt to be governed by these provisions under the IT Act, the interest income from specified assets (which includes debentures issued by public companies) should be taxable at the rate of 20% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) on gross basis.

As per the IT Act, interest on rupee denominated corporate bonds and government securities payable to Foreign Portfolio Investor ("FPI") would be subject to tax at the rate of 5% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) if following conditions are satisfied:

1. Such interest is payable on or after 1 June 2013 and 1 July 2020; and
2. Rate of interest does not exceed the rate notified by Central Government

If the above concessional tax rate is not available, then then the interest income would be subject to tax rate at the rate of 20% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) for FPI investors.

CAPITAL GAIN

Period of Holding

Capital assets are classified as long-term assets ("LTCA") or short-term assets ("STCA"), based on the period of holding of these assets. The period of holding of the asset is computed from the date of acquisition to the date of transfer. Depending on the period of holding for which the shares and securities are held, the gains would be taxable as short-term capital gains ("STCG") or long-term capital gains ("LTCG"). This is discussed below:

Nature of Assets	STCA	LTCA
For assets being shares in a company or any other security listed on a recognised stock exchange in India (i.e. equity shares, preference shares or debentures), or a unit of the Unit Trust of India or a Zero Coupon Bonds	Held for not more than 12 months	Held for more than 12 months

Note 1: The Finance Act, 2018 has withdrawn exemption from tax on long-term capital gains arising on transfer of listed equity shares, units of equity oriented mutual fund and units of business trust, with effect from April 1, 2018. As per section 112A of the IT Act, the long-term Capital Gains above INR 0.1 million on following transfers shall be taxable at 10%:

- listed equity shares (STT paid on acquisition* and transfer); and
- units of equity oriented mutual fund (STT paid on transfer)

Note 2: Based on judicial precedents, non-residents may avail the concessional tax rate (as mentioned above). However, the possibility of Indian Revenue Authorities disregarding the said position and applying a tax rate of 20% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) cannot be ruled out.

*The CBDT has issued a notification on October 1, 2018, clarifying that condition of paying STT at the time of acquisition shall not apply for all transactions of acquisition of equity shares other than the following negative list:

- where the acquisition of existing listed equity shares in a company whose equity shares are not frequently traded on a recognised stock exchange of India is made through a preferential issue, other than specified preferential issues;
- where transactions for acquisition of existing listed equity shares in a company is not entered through a recognised stock exchange, except in specified circumstances; and
- acquisition of equity share during the period beginning from the date on which the company is delisted from a recognised stock exchange and ending on the date immediately preceding the date on which the company is again listed on a recognised stock exchange, in accordance with the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956 ("SCRA") read with Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992 (15 of 1992) and the rules made thereunder.

Note 3: Benefit of the computation of gains in foreign currency and cost inflation index shall not be available on such gains.

Further, CBDT has clarified by way of FAQs that long-term capital gains in case of FPIs will be determined in the same manner as in the case of resident taxpayers.

NRI Clients/Investors are entitled to be governed by special tax provisions under Chapter XII-A of the ITA and if the NRI investors opt to be governed by these provisions under the ITA, (i) any long-term capital gains should be taxable at the rate of 10% (plus applicable surcharge and cess) and (ii) any investment income should be taxable at 20% (plus applicable surcharge and cess)

Other Provisions

Security Transaction Tax ("STT")

Delivery based purchases and sales of equity shares traded on recognised Indian stock exchanges are subject to STT at the rate of 0.1% on the transaction value of the purchase or sale. Further, STT at the rate of 0.2% on the transaction value is also leviable on sale of unlisted equity shares under an offer for sale to the public included in an initial public offer and where such shares are subsequently listed on a stock exchange. STT is levied on the seller at the rate of 0.025% on the sale of equity share in a company or unit of an equity oriented mutual fund - transaction in a recognised stock exchange, settled otherwise than by actual delivery.

General Anti Avoidance Rule ("GAAR")

GAAR provisions have been introduced in chapter X-A of the IT Act (effective from Financial Year beginning on April 1, 2017), which provides that an arrangement whose main purpose is to obtain a tax benefit and which also satisfies at least one of the four specified test as mentioned below, can be declared as an 'impermissible avoidance arrangement'

- Arrangement creates rights or obligations, which are not ordinarily created between persons dealing at arm's length price;
- Arrangement directly or indirectly results in the misuse or abuse of the provisions of the IT Act;
- Arrangement lacks commercial substance or is deemed to lack commercial substance in whole or in part; or
- Arrangement is entered into, or carried out, by means, or in a manner, which are not ordinarily employed for bonafide purposes.

The GAAR provisions would override the provisions of a Tax Treaty in cases where GAAR is invoked. The necessary procedures for application of GAAR and conditions under which it should not apply, have been enumerated in Rules 10U to 10UC of the IT Rules. The IT Rules provide that GAAR should not be invoked unless the tax benefit in the relevant year does not exceed INR 30 million.

On January 27, 2017, the CBDT has issued clarifications on implementation of GAAR provisions in response to various queries received from the stakeholders and industry associations. Some of the important clarifications issued are as under:

- Where tax avoidance is sufficiently addressed by the Limitation of Benefit Clause ('LOB') in a Tax Treaty, GAAR should not be invoked.
- GAAR should not be invoked merely on the ground that the entity is located in a tax efficient jurisdiction.
- GAAR is with respect to an arrangement or part of the arrangement and limit of INR 30 million cannot be read in respect of a single taxpayer only.
